Neurology and Stroke

Thursday 22 September 2025

09:25 – 17:00 (UK Time)

Online

Key Highlights:

- Cutting-edge insights into headache assessment, stroke management, and cerebral small vessel disease.
- Essential updates on neurological emergencies in pregnancy, functional neurological disease, and ocular issues.
- Innovations in treatment, including mechanical thrombectomy and novel approaches for seizures and status epilepticus.

This symposium will explore the presentation and management of diseases that occur at the intersection between classical neurology and stroke medicine, and promises a rich discussion on key neurological and stroke-related topics, featuring expert speakers from leading institutions.

The event will cover a broad spectrum of subjects, including headache assessment, stroke-mimicking migraines, and intracerebral haemorrhage. Sessions will also focus on neurological conditions in pregnancy, emerging treatments, and critical presentations that clinicians must not overlook.

A must-attend event for professionals looking to stay ahead in neurology and stroke care. All grades of medical, nursing, scientific staff. Allied health professionals and medical students welcome.

All recordings of talks available to delegates via catch-up on our Education Portal for 28 days post-event.
