Ophthalmology for Medics

Thursday 28 May 2026

 09:00 – 12:30

 Online

This half day online course provides practical, clinically focused approaches to common ophthalmic presentations such as:

- Red eye
- Visual loss
- Diplopia
- Anisocoria

and will explore how systemic diseases manifest in the eye, to enhance clinicians' diagnostic insight.

Attendees will gain ward based examination skills, including in visual fields and acuity, pupil assessment, and funduscopy techniques. Learn how to:

- Recognise and appropriately assess common acute ophthalmic presentations
- Perform essential ward based ophthalmic examinations with confidence
- Understand the relationship between ocular findings and systemic disease.

Whether you're a consultant, resident doctor, GP, specialist nurse, or allied health professional, this course offers invaluable learning for those working in the UK or worldwide.

 Catch-up available to registered delegates until 28 days after event.
