

Book now

RCPE presents

St Andrew's Day: Delivering the Best in Acute Care

Thursday 27 – Friday 28 November 2025

Join us in Edinburgh or online for the RCPE Acute Medicine Conference 2025, a two-day event designed for clinicians working across acute and general medicine. This dynamic programme delivers clinical updates spanning over 15 specialties and almost 20 areas of acute care.

Updates on common conditions

- Heart failure
- Asthma
- Type 2 diabetes
- Acute stroke
- Anaphylaxis

Keynote Lectures

- Patient Safety: Professor Charles Vincent, University of Oxford
- Cognitive Bias in Medicine: Professor Pat Croskerry, Dalhousie University

Ask the specialist

- The acutely sick oncology patient
- Blistering rashes
- The sedated toxic patient
- Alcohol and liver disorders
- Unwell thyroid patients

Practical parallel sessions

- Education in clinical practice
- Artificial intelligence in medicine
- Medicolegal issues
- Metabolic syndrome

Feedback from our previous St. Andrew's Day Conference:

*Best symposium I've been to in some time.
Topics grounded in day to day clinical care.*

Excellent wide ranging update for the generalist.

To be kept up to date with the latest information please email e.strawn@rcpe.ac.uk